A VISIT TO LONG LAKE PARK!

A few days ago we had the pleasure of visiting Long Lake Park, going by the new steamboat, Commodore, operated by the new and splendid crew. We made the trip from 10 to 11 a. m. The engines chugged they will be able to shorten the time to minutes after a few more trials. It was a very satisfactory ride, free from dust and heat. The park was cool and shady, having a continuous breeze, situated 25 feet above the lake and higher than the surrounding country. It is a magnificent land and water view. The hotel is having a number of summer lunches, enjoying the beautiful and breezy view, having the ladies and children in the lake all day long, and a beach for bathing.

NAVY MEN

Of Brooklyn Yard Want More Work,

Claim That They Have Not Been Receiving Their Share.

New York, July 2.—(Spl.)—Employees in the Brooklyn navy yard have drawn up a petition which they will send to Washington through Republican State Committeeman John D. Post of Brooklyn, in the next few days, asking that more of the repair work on war vessels be sent to that yard. For a long time the men in the Brooklyn yard have complained that the bulk of the repair work has been sent to other yards and that they have not been getting a fair share of it. They have the best lot of workmen in the country they say, and better facilities for work than any other yard. Yet they say that while hundreds of competent workmen are idle around the Brooklyn navy yard, two shifts are working night and day at the Boston navy yard, and the men at Philadelphia and Portsmouth are getting more work than they can attend to. When the act authorizing the five new battleships was passed by Congress last year a petition with 88,000 signatures was sent to the Secretary of the Navy asking that at least one of the ships be built at the Brooklyn yard. Mr. Post has promised the navy yard workmen to do all in his power to bring more work to them.

ENDEAVORERS

Were Forced to Give up Trip by Burning of Saale.

Chicago, Ill., July 2.—(Spl.)—One hundred and fifty delegates, many of them from the Pacific states and all from the west, on their way to the world's conference of the young people society of the Christian Endeavor in London, were halted in Chicago yesterday by the news of the destruction of the Saale in yesterday's fire at Hoboken. They were to have gone east on a special train at midnight last night, but at a meeting yesterday afternoon, the trip was abandoned. The meeting at which this decision was reached had been called to give the members of the Chicago societies an opportunity to meet the western pilgrims and give them a God speed. Instead it was transformed into a prayer meeting and an informal discussion of the news from New York and the prospects of continuing the journey.

ON TRIAL

Are the Would-Be Murderers of the Prince of Wales.

Brunswick, July 2.—(Spl.)—The trial of Spillido and his accomplices for the attempted assassination of the Prince of Wales commenced today. The four boys escorted by guards with fixed bayonets were placed in the dock. They gave their names in low trembling tones, and listened to the reading of the long indictment in silence.

SNAKE STORY

By Telegraph—Reptile Was in a Load of Hay.

Oaks Corners, N. Y., July 2.—(Spl.)—Timothy Hammett, Robert Budd and Wilson Williams were buying on Hammett's farm, three miles east of this village and as they were stowing away a load of hay in the barn, Budd gave a yell, and jumping from the hay, shouted, "I'm bitten by a snake." Budd rushed out of the barn, followed by Williams, who got a shot gun and killed the snake. Budd may die.

NEW YORKER.

Ohio Delegates, It's Said, Will Favor One For Vice President.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 2.—(Spl.)—J. D. Johnson, delegate from the Fourth Ohio District to the Kansas City convention, while en route to the Missouri city Saturday night, stated that the Ohio delegation will favor a New York man for the Vice Presidential nomination and Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, for National chairman, to succeed Senator James K. Jones.

"The Ohio delegation," said Mr. Johnson, "will strongly favor Mr. Taggart's selection as chairman of the National committee. He is a strong, aggressive, active young man, and under his leadership we can be assured of victory in Indiana."

AKRON PEOPLE

Are Interested in a Pennsylvania Strike.

Erie, Pa., July 2.—(Spl.)—The firemen employed by the Pennsylvania Rubber company struck today. They demand an advance in wages. The entire force is out.

Mr. F. A. Wilcox of Akron is super intendent of the factory.

to end with the declarations in favor of free commerce and an income tax made stronger and more explicit than they were four years ago. Before Mr. Bryan adopted the platform, he had a consultation with his friend Metcalfe and John W. Tomlinson, president of the Bimetall League of America, and they agreed with him that a failure to declare specifically in favor of 16 to 1 would be accepted as a back-down from the platform of '06. The argument to be used on the Committee on Credentials is that Cleveland was defeated in 1888 on an issue of a tariff for revenue only, but won on it in 1892. This outline of the platform was approved by Mr. Bryan.

For Vice President.

Kansas City, July 2.—(Spl.)—The Democratic vice presidential nomination is still open for anybody—that is, anybody who can reach it.

Here is a list to choose from: William Sulzer, David B. Hill, Elliot Danforth, Judge A. B. Parker of New York; Benjamin F. Shively, Indiana; Charles A. Towne, Minnesota; Carter H. Harrison, Illinois; Benton McMillen, Tennessee; James Hamilton Lewis, Washington; Robert A. Patterson, Pennsylvania; Arthur P. Gorman, Maryland; D. J. Campana, Michigan; David S. Rose, Wisconsin; David Overmeyer, Kansas; William J. Stone, Missouri; George Fred Williams, Massachusetts.

There may be some others, but these are "mentioned." Some are avowed candidates and others are not, and some do not even expect to be presented to the convention.

Georgians Want Hill.

Atlanta, Ga., July 2.—(Spl.)—Shortly before the Georgia delegates left for Kansas City, they took an expression of sentiment for the vice presidential nomination, declaring for David B. Hill, with but one dissenting voice. They also resolved that the platform should be amended so as to be acceptable to Mr. Hill.

Burke-Gahan Faction.

Chicago, July 2.—(Spl.)—Democrats of the Burke-Gahan faction this afternoon will form a party and board a special Burlington train to Kansas City. Only two stops will be made. One at Aurora to pick up Samuel Alschuler, the candidate for Governor, and the other one at Burlington, Ia., for dinner. Mayor Harrison will accompany the party.

Bryan and Hill Confer.

Kansas City, Mo., July 2.—(Spl.)—David B. Hill of New York, held a long conference with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln last night and early this morning. The visiting correspondents succeeded in reaching Mr. Hill by long distance telephone. When asked what the result of the conference was Mr. Hill replied: "The Supreme court has been seated two hours and has not changed its individual opinion." Previous to the conference both men held widely different views and the advice of adopting a new silver plank was discussed, but there is every reason to believe that they still adhere to their former positions.

Attending the Convention.

Capt. C. C. Benner and Edw. S. Harter left last night over the Erie to attend the Kansas City convention. Judge Chas. R. Grant, who is a delegate at large to the convention of Lincoln Republicans at Kansas City, received a telegram to meet some Eastern clients today, and if he is able to attend the convention he will leave for Kansas City tomorrow.

Pennsy Won.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 2.—(Spl.)—The four car race on the Hudson today, was won by Pennsylvania by five lengths. Columbia was second. Cornell was discredited and did not finish. The time for Pennsylvania was 19:31 and for Columbia 19:30.

LATE LOCALS.

George W. Watkins' pension was increased to $8 per month.

A special train will run to Canton July 10th. It is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of a special rate for the occasion.

Mr. O. W. Baum has been elected assistant secretary and manager of the Summit County Building and Savings Company. The office of the company will be in the Central office building with Graham & Baum.

Splendid Success.

In spite of the cool weather of Saturday evening the lawn fete given by the Mary Day Nursery at Biorec park was largely attended. A musical program was given during the evening by the Goodrich band and the Liedertafel. The park was handsomely decorated with Chinese lanterns. The ladies cleared about $20.

TIRED OF LIFE

Was Mrs. Anna Clayton of Philadelphia.

A Few Words Relating to a Woman's Hardships.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 2.—(Spl.)—A woman who registered as Mrs. Anne Clayton last night at A. Levy's hotel Thirty-second and Market sts., was found in her room yesterday with a sponge saturated with chloroform pressed to her nostrils and the gas turned on. She was not dead and was taken to the University hospital where this morning it was said there was a possibility of her recovery. She was well, though plainly, dressed, and is evidently a woman of education and refinement and a stranger in this city. On a scrap of paper beside the bed was a note that read:

"My dear Robert, I am tired of living. I have walked about all day in the sun and had nothing to eat."

In her bosom was this letter:

"Do you know, oh dear, good Christian people of this city, with your church spires pointing heavenward, there is not one place in this city that a homeless, refined woman can go to be sheltered, (I mean without money.) Dear friend, whoever you are: If you want to build a monument, build and endow a home of this kind. Let there be needlework, plain sewing, fancy baking or work like that, that a gentlewoman could do to return for the kindness."

"If you doubt my word, fair lady, dress yourself as a lady, act and converse like one (even though your charitable teachings) and make the rounds and ask for a night's lodging. Well, you will find yourself at the end of your rounds homeless again. Will we live and learn, and on the world is cold and cruel, and I am tired, oh, so tired of it all. We all pass through the Gethsemane. The cry of the barefooted gentleman 'could you not watch with me one hour?' is repeated over and over, is the cry for human sympathy."

STARTLING NEWS

Of a Woman Whom Mexicans Want Badly.

Santa Teresa Urreak Married—Husband Tried to Kill Her.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—(Spl.)—Santa Teresa Urreak, the woman hunter on whose head Mexico has placed a price, and who is accused of having incited the Yuki Indians, of Sonora to rebel against the established government, is now in Arizona, and a few days since was married at Clifton to Juan Rodriguez. The couple went to Metcalf to spend their honeymoon and the next day word was brought to Clifton that the bridegroom had attempted to murder the alleged saint. Two sheriffs chartered an engine and hastened to Metcalf. They found the village in uproar. After trying to kill his wife, Rodriguez fired shots about the town and disappeared. He was subsequently run down by the officers and arrested. Some years ago, while Santa Teresa was in El Paso engaged in healing the sick, a well-dressed stranger from Mexico sought to make her his wife and proposed that they spend their honeymoon in Mexico. Santa Teresa was at the time a fugitive from her native land for political reasons and her father refused to sanction the match, fearing that the Mexican government had devised the scheme to decoy the saint back across the border and thus effect her capture.

BIG STRIKE

Of Coal Miners Pending in Alabama.

If It Results 20,000 Men Will Quit Work.

Birmingham, Ala., July 2.—(Spl.)—Ten thousand Alabama coal miners suspended work today pending the settlement of their wage dispute with the operators. The miners demand an advance of forty per cent in wages. The operators have refused this and offer to renew the old scale which expired yesterday. It is fifty per cent advance on the scale which prevailed up to a year ago and the operators say that in view of the decline in iron and the dullness of the trade this is the best they can do. The State Miners' convention rejected this proposal and joint committees of the miners and operators after being in session two days failed to agree on a compromise. Today mass meetings are being held at all the mining camps to instruct the representatives to the State convention as to whether to adhere to the miners' original demands or accept the offer of the operators. The result will be made known when the miners' convention reassembles here tomorrow. The prospect, now is that the miners will stand out for their demands and a general strike will be ordered. Such a strike would tie up the coal and iron industries in this part of the south and would involve directly and indirectly over twenty thousand men.
